Undergraduate Programs

Major and Minor Programs; Basic Language Instruction

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures offers full major programs in French and Spanish, leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Arts in Education, as well as a major in English as a Second Language (ESLG). Minor programs in German and Japanese are also available. A minor in Chinese is in preparation.

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures promotes several kinds of values within the academic community and the pursuit of these values constitutes, in a broad sense, the educational mission of the department.

Grade Requirement for Majors and Minors: cumulative average ≥ 2.50 .

Practical Values:

the instruction of basic, intermediate and advanced foreign or second language skills allows students to acquire practical knowledge in the speaking, listening comprehension, reading and writing of the target language.

Intellectual Values:

through all levels of learning in language and literature programs the student pursues;

- an understanding about the phenomenon of language,
- enhanced skills in inquiry, analysis and the exercise of critical faculties and
- an understanding about the individual nature of the more specialized discourse in cultural and literary studies.

Aesthetic Values:

the study of the literature and of other creative forms of human expression associated with a given national culture promotes greater discrimination and greater enjoyment in aesthetic experience.

Cultural Values:

the language, literature and culture courses within the language program promote;

- the knowledge and appreciation of cultural history and
- the awareness of the ideas, manners, customs, skills and other cultural attributes that define a particular people as well as a sensitivity to the phenomenon of cultural diversity.

Study Abroad Opportunities

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures recommends that students complete the equivalent of at least two years of university language study before taking advantage of a study abroad program.

Summer study abroad programs are available in Spain at the Colegio Delibes and in Germany at the University of Passau.

Placement in Language Courses

Students are welcome to consult with the chair of the department and/or with a language program faculty member in advance of enrollment. The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures is in Patterson Hall, suite 133. The reception number of the department is 509.359.2481. The phone numbers and email addresses of the chair and program faculty are also available on the university's website.

When students first enroll in a language course they should follow the guidelines below. If they are in any doubt about appropriate placement, they should consult with their teachers during the first day or two of the quarter.

The first-and/or second-year courses in languages need to be taken in a sequence. The information below intends to provide guidelines for students in determining where they should place themselves in a language course sequence, based on where they ended previous language study. (A separate set of guidelines—Advanced Placement (AP) Test Credit—governs credit and placement for students who have taken the national AP Test.)

No Previous Study: students who have no prior study or knowledge of a language should begin study with 101, normally offered only fall quarter.

High School Language Experience

The state of Washington has established equivalency standards for high school and college/university language instruction. Under those official standards, one year of high school language study equals one quarter of university study; two years of high school equal two quarters at university; three years high school equal the entire first-year college/university sequence.

The following guidelines show where students should begin university study, according to their high school language background. Students ought normally to begin at the highest level indicated. This makes them eligible for maximum Proficiency Placement Credit (see below). They may elect to begin at a lower level and/or be advised to do so for reasons of weak background and/or a considerable lapse of time between high school study and university enrollment.

Students with one year of high school language study should place themselves in a 102 section (normally winter quarter) at EWU. After completing 102, they become eligible for proficiency placement credit. They may also elect to begin with 101 (fall quarter).

Students with two years of high school study should place themselves in a 103 section (spring quarter) at EWU. After completing 103 (and additional coursework), they become eligible for proficiency placement credit. They may also elect to begin with 102 (winter quarter), but they must have a written waiver from the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures in order to receive credit if they begin with 101.

Students with three years of high school study should place themselves in a 201 section (fall quarter) at EWU. After completing 201 (and additional coursework), they become eligible for proficiency placement credit. They may also elect to begin with 103 (spring quarter), but they must have a written waiver from the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures in order to receive credit if they begin with 102 or lower.

Students with more than three years of high school study should place themselves in a 201 section (fall quarter) at EWU. After completing 201 (and additional coursework), they become eligible for proficiency placement credit. They must have a written waiver from the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures in order to receive credit if they begin with 103 or lower.

College/University Language Experience

Students who have prior university credit for language study may not repeat equivalent courses at EWU for additional credit. They should continue language study in sequence from the point they ended previous study.

Other Intermediate or Advanced Language Experience

Students who believe that they have attained intermediate or advanced knowledge in a language through previous experience may take the proficiency test offered by a program or otherwise consult the program faculty before or at the time of initial enrollment in language courses. (A separate set of guidelines deals with Proficiency Placement Credit at the second-year level.)

Proficiency Placement Credit

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures offers proficiency placement credit to students who enter EWU with some prior training and knowledge of foreign languages at the first- and/or second-year levels. These guidelines explain the conditions under which students may receive placement credit for previous language study.

First-Year Language Study

Students who through prior training or knowledge are able to skip 101, 102 and/or 103 classes in any foreign language may receive proficiency placement credit for these classes. To do this, they must complete an equivalent number of credit hours in the language program in question at appropriately higher course levels in the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at EWU. The maximum proficiency placement credit for first-year study in one language is 15 credits.

Proficiency placement credit for first-year language study does not carry a grade and is not assigned a particular course number, but it does appear on the student's transcript and does count toward the student's 180 credit hour requirement for graduation.

Second-Year Language Study

Students who believe that they have attained intermediate or advanced knowledge in a language through previous experience may take the proficiency test offered by a program (or otherwise consult the program faculty for proficiency screening) to determine an appropriate placement. We emphasize that it is extremely important for students in this situation to consult with the program faculty before or at the time of initial enrollment in language courses.

Proficiency placement credit for second-year language study carries a grade of PASS (P) for 201, 202 and/or 203 and is awarded contingent; on passing the proficiency test or other proficiency screening by the program faculty before or at the time of initial enrollment in language courses and on completing a minimum of 5 credits at the 200- and/or upper- division level.

Students who receive a P credit for second-year language study are also eligible for proficiency credit for first-year language study.

A. P. Test Credit

These guidelines to explain how the department awards course credit for students who have scored from 3 to 5 in a given language on the College Board's Advanced Placement Test.

Students scoring a 3, 4 or 5 may receive credit in French, German, Japanese or Spanish with a grade of P when they matriculate at EWU.

A score of 3 • may receive credit for 201 (5 credits)

A score of 4 • may receive credit for 201, 202 (10 credits)

A score of 5 • may receive credit for 201, 202, 203 (15 credits)

Study Abroad and Core Requirements for Spanish

Students majoring or minoring in Spanish must complete SPAN 310/SPAN 311, SPAN 320 (students going to Latin America)/SPAN 321 (students going to Spain) and GNML 390 on campus. Students staying abroad for more than two consecutive quarters may consult the advisors of the Spanish Program about exceptions to these requirements.

Students studying abroad for less than 10 weeks may have the credits courses transferred but these will not meet major/minor degree requirements with the exception of 2 credits of conversation courses at the advanced level (SPAN 305) and 5 credits of culture/humanities courses (upper division courses) which are valid as electives.

Required courses in the following programs of study may have prerequisites. Reference the course description section for clarification.

Subjects codes: ASL (p. 3), CHIN (p. 3), FREN (p. 3), GNML (p. 4), GERM (p. 4), JAPN (p. 5), SPAN (p. 6)

Pre-requisites: SPAN 310, SPAN 311, SPAN 312, SPAN 313, SPAN 320, SPAN 321.

This course serves as an introduction to the history of the Spanish language by presenting an overview of the diachronic evolution of the current Modern Spanish language from Latin. It adopts a descriptive historical perspective to explore phonological, lexical, syntactic, and semantic change. It also studies historical facts as well as the different languages that shaped the Spanish language through history: pre-Roman Iberian languages, Latin, Greek, Arabic, French, and indigenous languages of the Americas. A central concept of the course is the notion of linguistic change, which explains why language evolution is an integral part of all human languages.
