

JOURNALISM MINOR

The journalism minor is designed to teach introductory journalism knowledge. Students are introduced to theory, critical analysis, contemporary trends, and career opportunities in the field of journalism. Includes studying the newsgathering process and learning how to write basic news reports.

A Journalism minor is an excellent complement to many majors.

Note: ENGL 201 prerequisite.

Required Courses

JRNM 209	MEDIA WRITING	5
JRNM 330	PRINCIPLES OF JOURNALISM	5
JRNM 332	NEWS WRITING	5
Electives—10 credits; choose from upper-division JRNM courses.		10
Total Credits		25